Town Council.

There was a rather slim attendance of the Council last week, and the business was about on a par with the attendance. Mayor Robertson presided, and supporting him were Councillors Cotton, Smith and Reid. Solicitor Frouwe was also present.

The following accounts were passed:

G. Reese, labor on gas main.....	13.00
R. Laferte, labor.....	8.40
P. Thompson, labor.....	2.70
S. Hill, labor.....	4.50
J. Cochran, labor.....	23.70
R. & B. Baitie, tractor work.....	18.00
E. L. Christie, rubber stamp.....	.50
J. M. Bratton, hauling pipe.....	3.00
Telephone.....	1.85
Mercantile Co.....	5.00

An application was received from Dr. Monroe for permission to erect a 2 & 60 two-story building.

This was granted.

The matter of purchasing a vault door for a strong room was left in the hands of the Mayor and Secretary.

The meeting then adjourned.

Lecture.

On Monday, September 11th, the Rev. C. H. Henrich, D.D., Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, paid a visit to Bow Island, and lectured in the Presbyterian Church on German and British Ideals. Unfortunately the weather was not propitious and the attendance was very small. Mr. Henrich dealt ably with his subject, showing the growth of the Prussian spirit in Germany and pointing out how great was the difference between British and German conception of freedom, culture and of the duties and responsibilities of national life. At the close of his address, Mr. Henrich showed the relation of the present great struggle in which we are engaged and the work which he represented. It was essential, he urged, when we were fighting for ideals that we did not allow any intruders to be made upon those great institutions such as the Lord's Day which is the bulwark of our national life.

A MILD WINTER.

Indians assert that the coming winter will be one of the mildest in recent years. They base their assertions on the following signs:

The oak trees have no acorns.

Squirrels are seldom seen.

Musk rats have not started to build.

Fur-bearing animals have thin coats.

Bark on poplar trees is loose.

There are some other signs they go by for their assertion that the winter will be mild and short. They are seldom wrong.

Threshing Starts

The splendid weather of the past week has done much to forward work in the harvest fields. Fully 90 per cent of the wheat is now cut and the greater portion in the stack. What the yield will be is problematical but many of the farmers near Bow Island are very optimistic, some of them figuring on fifty to sixty bushel per acre. This, however, is an summer fallow. Where the grain has been put in on stubble, the yield will probably be between twenty and twenty-five bushels.

The threshing outfits, of which there are many in the district, are now getting to work and within a few days some idea will be gained as to the output.

Walter Walwork, living north of town, threshed a portion of his crop last week, and had the distinction of leading the first load into the elevator this season. His crop is expected to average 30 bushels.

F. J. Henderson commenced threshing on Monday and shipped out a car on Tuesday.

G. H. James, two miles east of Grassy Lake, threshed on Friday and Saturday of last week and off fifty acres got an average of 51 bushels.

Mr. Anderson of Burdett has bought the first car of wheat taken into that town. He informed us that the whole crop from which it was taken averaged 45 bushels and is graded No. 1.

J. Kimmitt of the same town is reported to have a fifty bushel crop, and T. Roberts living north is quite confident that his crop is better than last year's when he had 33 bushels. He has 73 acres, and it took $50.00 of value.

Mrs. E. Sickles, of Moore, Montann, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. F. MacLean.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Sutton and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dulmage motored to Etzikom on Sunday last.

F. Thurston, living south of Bow Island, was admitted into the hospital here on Tuesday last suffering from injuries to his hand and arm. In the morning he was working a binder when the team ran away and threw him on the knife side of the machine. The knife fortunately was high, otherwise there is no doubt but what the accident would have had fatal results. As it was, he was allowed to leave the hospital after a few day's treatment.

Threshers Come First.

Now that the threshing season is here every owner or operator of a threshing outfit should read the thresher's lien act carefully.

In the first place it provides that every thresher, whether he does custom work or threshes his own crop only, must each year before commencing operations register his name with the minister of agriculture of Alberta at a cost of $1.00, and procure a certificate of registration, which shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place upon the machine or separator during the whole of the threshing season. From the wording of the act it would appear that if the certificate happens to be removed or accidentally lost the owner would have to send and get another certificate.
For failure to register his machine the offender loses his right to a lien for his account, and is liable to a penalty not exceeding $25 and costs.
But someone may ask why a thresher should pay 1.00 to register his machine. That question is easily answered. The noxious weeds acts provide that every thresher shall thoroughly clean his machine, both before and out, and all his wagon racks, after threshing each setting, and shall clean the grain threshed by him so that it shall not contain more than 100 noxious weed seeds, other than wild oats, in 1,000 seeds of grain, and shall display on his machine a card containing the clauses of the act referred to. For non-compliance with the provisions of the noxious weeds act the thresher is liable to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50 and costs. Everyone who advert that it is in the interests of the country to prevent the spread of spreading and in order to send out the cards and enforce the act it is necessary for the department to know who the threshers are.

In addition to this, threshers who comply with the thresher's lien act are specially protected in having their bills paid. They come ahead of the man who supplied the farmer with seed grain, ahead of the merchant who has fed the farmer for six months or more, ahead of the tax gatherer and the farmer's hired man even. Without lawyers' fees, without court costs, without the use of a warrant or a bailiff, the thresher's account is absolutely safe; and it costs him to secure this protection each year, and in addition to get a copy of the noxious weeds card and to have the certificate registered, the thresher pays only the money value of $1, which goes towards paying of the cost incurred in the administration of the act. Moreover, it is very desirable in the interests of the public that reports of crop returns should be as accurate as possible. Now, if every thresher in the province registers his machine, the department registry can write him and get valuable information, statistics and returns that they cannot procure in any other way. In this connection it may be noted that any thresher who fails to send the department any information required of him is liable to the same penalty as for non-registration of his machine.

If a thresher desires to retain a lien on the grain for his threshing account he has to comply actively with the provisions set out in the act:

(1) He must have his machine registered;

(2) He must satisfy any claim for wages for the threshing; he is seized for

(3) He must give notice of the retention during or forthwith after the threshing, and separate the retained grain from the bulk;

(4) Upon such notice being given he may retain a sufficient quantity of the grain threshed to pay the cost of threshing done that season, with cost of haulage at four cents per 100 pounds for six miles or less and 34 cent per 100 pounds for each additional mile, provided that the total charge for haulage shall not exceed 20 cents per 100 pounds.
There is no provision in the act for the charging of interest, nor for seizing more than the quantity of grain which would approximately pay the total account for threshing and haulage;

(5) He must separate the grain claimed from the bulk threshed and either (a) haul it away and store it in his own name, or (b) leave it in a separate bin on the premises;

(6) If he hauls it away and stores it he may sell it at a fair market price, but the retention expires 15 days from the date of retention, unless his account and charge for haulage and give the owner the balance if any;

(7) If he leaves the grain on the premises the time of detention he must remove it within 30 days, even-though the owner may consent to the retention longer, as other creditors can seize it after the expiration of the time fixed by the act for removal;

(8) The thresher must also separate grain within the 30 days, unless the owner consents in writing to the grain being held until for a longer period.

Some of the threshing account books used by threshers are in two parts. One gives a memorandum of the number of bushels of each kind of grain threshed, per bushel and cost, and contains a statement to the effect that the above mentioned grain will be held by the threshers lien until payment of this account in full, with interest at per cent. per annum after days from date." This is presumably signed by the thresher and given to the owner.

The counterpart contains a similar memorandum with an acknowledgment of its receipt and of its correctness and of agreement to pay the amount in days from date, or to pay interest at per cent. per annum from date, followed by a statement having received notice of retention of above mentioned grain under the thresher's lien until payment of this account in full." This is presumably signed by the owner and retained by the thresher. The taking and giving of such memoranda is not a compliance with the provisions of the thresher's lien act of Alberta and if contested the threshers using such forms would be likely to lose their claims. The essentials of a thresher's lien in the province are: (1) Registration of machine; (2) notice of retention of grain to pay the threshing account, and (3) separation of the grain seized from the bulk threshed.

A Village Comedy.

Many doubters have since regretted their inability to be present at the socio-farlically-comedy enacted at a nearby town on Monday last week.
By all accounts it was the hit of the season. The play was staged entirely by the Free Press, but unfortunately owing to the fact that it had not been sufficiently well advertised the attendance was not what it might have been. Quite those who did attend were quite unanimous in declaring that the characters engaged played their parts particularly well. Someone represented the parents of a girl who had married against her wish and gained thereby for her husband her animosity. This feeling on the part of the parents lived and thrived and grew, until one day taking advantage of the husband's absence in the harvest-field, they despatched their hired man to the daughter's house, where representing himself to be a detective an endeavor is made by him to obtain certain information.
His actions are noted by the neighbors, who immediately take steps to show a decided disapproval. The "would-be a Pinkerton" becomes alarmed and making sure he has served him to Bow Island on his wheel. By his tale of woe he secures the assistance there of the chief of police, and thus guarded returned.

In the meantime, someone representing the daughter phones to Medicine Hat for a detachment of the Mounted Police to arrest the hired-man-detective.
The police, who by-the-way have just returned from a 100 mile trip, and therefore naturally enjoy this added labor, arrive on the scene and find the house surrounded by about thirty people, who are evidently under the impression that they will have the impostor hiding in their midst. Consequently when the discovery is made that he has eluded their vigilance and is now under police protection, the situation possibly may be better imagined than described. Explanation now comes, and the police finding the charge not strong enough for intervention, the curtain descends, and the old moon shines once more upon a peaceful village.

Farmers Starting

Threshing Operations in Bow Island District.

Harvesting is over with few exceptions, and the grain still standing is principally flax. We feel confident that the season has been a successful one, touching us prior to a few days ago.

It does our hearts good when we drive through the country in this vicinity and see the beautiful fields covered with crops that are on the verge of being harvested. It is a sight which displays an air of propensity.

Our farmers are investing in automobiles which have become necessary as a part of their farm equipment.
We see load after load of lumber going to the mills, and we see the farmers who are busy at work to live more comfortably in the future.

We notice they are even going further than this and are wisely investing in equipment for the purpose of immediately transferring their grain from the stock to the bin and under cover and place them in a position to market same at any time they see fit.

We have taken special note of the machines delivered at this point by the well known Advance Rural Thresher Co. whose branch house is at the Province of Alberta is located at Calgary. The general trend in the district is toward the famous Rural, Oil Pull tractor, which since seeing a number of these machines in operation appeals to the writer as being an ideal farm tractor as well as a means of power for threshing. We find them increasingly more so.

Our farmers are also investing in power and combined with this another important feature, successfully bringing the writer is advised by Mr. Stevenson, local land surveyor who is the local agent for the above company, that the Oil Pull tractor is guaranteed to develop a full rated horse power when operated on keroseene and turn keroseene at all loads under all conditions. We find three investigations that there is an enormous call for Rural Oil Pull tractors, due to the separating capacity of the power, and the fact that they are brought about by the unusual length and width of rural in its construction.

The Advance Rural Company are also manufacturers of steam engines and have had considerable call for their products at this point, and are at this date delivering a 20 HP Rural Ideal Separator to Messrs. Peterson, Waite and Nordlie of south-east of this point.

HIS SPEECH RETURNED

Rev. G. Herring received a letter from his father, Rev. H. F.
Herring, of Sifton Park, Liverpool, England, last week, in which enclosed the following passage:—In the evening I held a little service in the new schools where there are now 100 wounded soldiers. When I was a man who had been done for many weeks from shell shock. Whom I met on Tuesday I was told that this man's speech came back to him when I began the service with the hymn,
"How Sweet the Name of Jesus Sounds," which I accompanied on a harmonium. I see the man at once and he said it was his favorite hymn.
It's nice to hear of any man having a favorite hymn.

L. D. Brower was a visitor to Calgary on Monday.

Mrs. F. Brophy, who has been visiting friends here, returned to Olds on Tuesday.

A crew arrived this week to erect an elevator here for the Imperial Elevator Co.

Birth—On Tuesday, at the Bow Island hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Hemmings, a daughter.

Mrs. Tolan of Montreal, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Whitney, returned home last week.

Miss Isabel Whitney left on Friday of last week for Calgary to resume her studies at St. Hilda's.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Blaine, accompanied by A. F. Werts, autoto to Medicine Hat and Redcliffe on Monday.

Mrs. Yima, who was operated on at the hospital recently for appendicitis, returned to her home at Foremost on Friday last.

The Empire Elevator Co. is putting a cupola on elevator here this week. There will also be other alterations. The work is in charge of Arthur Mack.

Jas. Kinley, of Ymon, Nebraska, who has been visiting friends here, has been in the Bow Island hospital under the doctor's care for several days. On Wednesday, however, he was sufficiently recovered to return home.

Winnifred apparently is still maintaining a strong interest in the Red Cross. Mrs. H. H. Foster of that town informs us that Miss Luella Smith, Miss Gervia Moggs and the Misses Foster recently collected $21.50 for the above fund.

G. J. Anderson arrived in town yesterday (Thursday) from Dakota. He informs us the crops there are showing very poorly, and are averaging but from four to six bushels per acre. He is delighted with the prospects here.

Billy Day services will be held on Sunday next at the Sunday school, in the Presbyterian Church, at 11 a.m., and at the Methodist church service at 7.30 p.m. Special singing in the morning by the children, with short addresses.

Geo. H. Ridgedale is going to supplement his income derived from his roomers at the Hotel Myrtle by putting in some pool tables. By this means he thinks he may possibly make enough to warrant him in keeping the hotel open. He finds that where so many soft soft drinks it is impossible to expect much from this source.

The Bow Island Cadet Corps received last week a richly embossed silver cup, an exact replica of the larger cup sent here for exhibition some few months ago. It bears the following inscription:—"Alberta Cadet Minutia Rifle Competition. Classes B and C, first place 1915-16, No. 573, Bow Island Cadet Corps." The cup is the permanent property of the corps.

The Sisters of the local Rebekah Lodge celebrated their anniversary this year on Wednesday evening by paying a surprise visit to the Oddfellows' Lodge. The surprise was complete for it caught the members entirely unprepared. The Lodge, however, as soon as it became aware of the situation quickly suspended business, and the remainder of the evening was then spent in mutual enjoyment. Cards and music, and the excellent things provided by the fair visitors, were all thoroughly appreciated and much enjoyed, and led some of the Oddfellows to venture to hope that their own members would follow up the lead and return the visit at an early date.

Notes by the Way

By "MINIMUS."

Moving Pictures stir us up in many ways. I am all for a good show of "Movies," and at our excellent little show the other night I was rolling between tears and laughter all the time. That is because I am a very ordinary human. I am not one of the superior order who consider either to be weaknesses, and therefore to be avoided. Thank God, we can still laugh! And better than that, we can still laugh! If they denote weakness I don't mind. Presence us from the human who is beyond both!

But what makes a man laugh? What is the essence of humour? What is it that a man sees, that he should lose control over himself, and allow all his facial muscles to play tricks with themselves? He sees two things in conjunction which never should be combined. He perceives the incongruous. His sense of fitness is tickled. That's why he roars till the tears run down. Because he sees two things side by side which were never meant to be. Now for example—

If a man walks down one of New York's main streets wearing a tall silk hat and a lathing suit, the people laugh. Why? Nothing funny in the hat by itself. Nothing funny in the lathing suit. But combine them and there you have the joke. It is a sense of the fitness of things that produces a sense of humour. And a sense of the unfitness of things goes with it.

All humour consists in this. A man who sings a rollicking funny song with a grave face is a true humorist. You laugh because the face doesn't fit the song. That is the really amusing part. Similarly when a man is cracking a nut with a hammer, and a song to listen us up, and make us even more bloodthirsty, and that song happens to be "Shall I be an Angel Daddy?" Well, we laugh because recruiting meetings and angels are not naturally combined. But the man is a true humorist—or a fool.

If then a sense of humour consists in an ability to perceive the fitness and unfitness of things much follows. (Hurry up, you've nearly finished your space—Eds. Review). It explains why I can myself seldom laugh at the red-nose type of comedian, with the insouciant trousers. The song is silly but so are the trousers. The man is all right but so are the words. It is all so fitting, so proper, and just as it ought to be.

Now all this points to something. Namely that the man with the sense of humour (and of the fitness of things) is the man we need. He will not soon make the wrong kind of joke and think it funny. Because he knows what's fit, and what isn't. He is a man of discrimination, and of fine perception. Oh, how we need that man. On our platform, in our pulpit, editing our papers. Give us that man every time, who knows what's what.

Mr. Farmer,

Your summerfallow needs that CULTIVATOR. I need your money. I have a few left and will make a SPECIAL PRICE on them rather than carry them over winter. It will pay you to investigate these prices.
